VOLUME 14 NUMBER 10

Timely Tidbits ...

Students To Collect Toiletry Donations

Romulus High School students "doing something for the common good" are asking for your help on Saturday, December 2, when they will be out and about on neighborhood streets to collect toiletry items to benefit our area's homeless community. Local residents who would like to contribute to the collection can leave their donations on their front doorsteps, or call the school (734-941-2170, ext. 809) to arrange for pickup.

Items sought include toothpaste, toothbrushes, dental floss, mouthwash, soap, shampoo, toilet paper, tissues, combs, brushes, cotton swabs and balls, bandages, deodorant, and disposable razors. Other items are also welcome.

Oakwood Illuminates "Tree of Lights"

Oakwood Healthcare's "Tree of Lights" program offers a meaningful way to honor or memorialize loved ones for the holidays. For a small donation, volunteers will place an ornament bearing the honoree's name on a beautifully decorated Christmas tree at one of four hospitals. Funds raised are used for projects that benefit Oakwood patients. For more information, call 313-593-5865.

Chamber Seeks Fax Machine, Computer

The Greater Romulus Chamber of Commerce is seeking the donation of a computer and a fax machine. Currently, the Chamber does not have a fax machine at all, so even an older machine would be welcome; however, as far as a computer is concerned, the group is hoping to obtain a newer model, since its old one – donated several years ago by a local businessman – is now too outdated to run any recent software, and also has a defective monitor.

For further information, contact Oscar H. Rhoton, Jr., Chamber Director, at Metro Realty Group, Inc. (734-946-7141). □

Local, Area Holiday Programs Offer an Enjoyable Break from Seasonal Stress

When December's hectic pace leaves you needing a pick-me-up, why not take time out to attend one of the following seasonal events? They're guaranteed to put the ho-ho-ho back in your holidays.

Library Hosts Annual Tree-trimming Party

The Romulus Public Library (located at 11121 South Wayne Road, next to City Hall) invites children and adults of all ages to take part in its annual Holiday Tree-trimming Party, set for Saturday, December 2, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Those who attend will enjoy some good, old-fashioned fun (including the stringing of popcorn and cranberries for garland), and will have a chance to make two ornaments – one for the Library's tree, one to take home. There is no charge to participate, and no preregistration is required. For more information, call the Library (734-942-7589).

Annual Tree-lighting, Santa's Arrival Mark Season's Official Start

Santa will make his first official appearance in Romulus on Friday, December 8. The fun will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Romulus Historic Park (located next to the Post Office on Hunt Street), where a performance by the Romulus Cloggers and a community sing-a-long will be followed by Santa's arrival and the lighting of the City's holiday tree. The nearby Historical Museum, featuring decorations of days gone by, will also be open at this time. Afterward, everyone is invited to Wick Elementary School to visit with Santa and enjoy hot chocolate, coffee, and donuts. There is no charge to participate in this program.

Lunch with Santa

Children ages three to nine can enjoy lunch with Santa at the Romulus Recreation Center (located at 36515 Bibbins in downtown Romulus) on Saturday, December 9, beginning at 11:30 a.m. Cost is $3 per person. Preregistration is required. (Since space is limited, early registration is recommended.)

Holiday Craft Class

Youngsters of all ages (under 10 must be accompanied by an adult) are invited to take part in the Romulus Recreation Center's holiday craft class, set for Saturday, December 9, at about 1:30 p.m. (following Lunch with Santa, above). Ages seven and up can choose to make an angel ($7) or a bear ($5); a third project ($2) will be available for those six and under. (Sample crafts are on display at the Recreation Center.) Preregistration is required. (Since space is limited, early registration is recommended.)

Holiday Lights Tour

Local residents are invited to tour the City and judge homes for the annual Holiday Lights contest, set for Wednesday, December 13. The van will depart from the Recreation Center at 6 p.m. Cost is $1 per person. Preregistration is required. (Since space is limited, early registration is recommended.)

Romulus Animal Shelter Offers Pet Pictures with Santa

On Saturday, December 16, area residents can bring their pet dog, cat, ferret, etc., to the Romulus Animal Shelter (located east of the Total station at Goddard and Wayne roads) to have pictures made with Santa. The program will run from 1 to 4 p.m. Photos are $2 each. For more information, please call 734-942-7591.

Although you'll have to venture a little farther afield, the following Metro-area events promise to be worthwhile.

A Christmas Carol

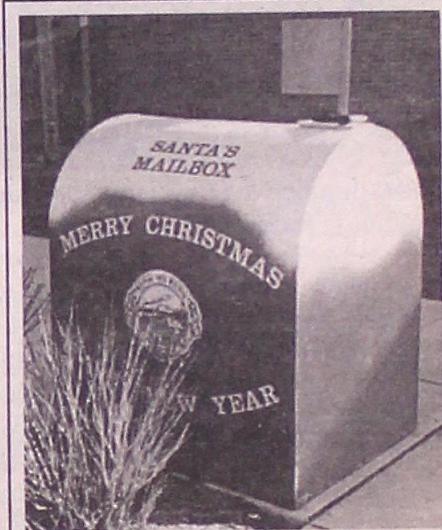

Macomb Center for the Performing Arts (located one mile east of Lakeside Mall at Hall/M-59 and Garfield roads in Clinton Township) will present A Christmas Carol on Saturday, December 2, at 3 and 8 p.m.

The Nebraska Theatre Caravan has been touring Charles Jones' delightful adaptation of A Christmas Carol (which weaves traditional Christmas carols throughout the narrative) since 1979. It is probably the most widely produced production of Dickens in the nation, annually performed for more than 100,000 people in more than 50 cities across the country.

Tickets ($24 for adults, $22 for students/senior citizens) are available at the Macomb Ticket Office on Friday until 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Call 810-286-2141 for more information.

Noel Night

The Charles H. Wright Museum of African-American History (located at 315 East Warren Avenue, Detroit) invites you to bring the family and celebrate Noel Night on Saturday, December 2.

Local children who mail letters to Santa in the box in front of the Public Library will get a personal reply.

Inside the Museum, the celebration will offer exciting activities, music, and story-telling, as well as arts & crafts. Beginning at 5 p.m., there will be photos with Santa, holiday shopping at the Museum Store, and caroling. There will also be workshops where you can collect festive home decorating ideas, create your favorite seasonal dish with some of Detroit's hottest chefs, or make your own Christmas tree decorations.

For more information, please call 313-494-5800, ext. 0.

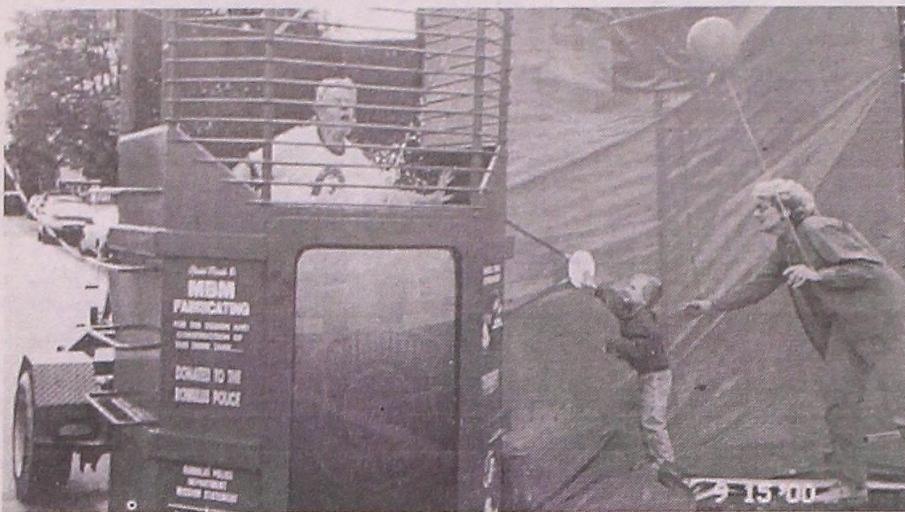

The Nutcracker

Visions of sugarplum fairies and Nutcracker princes have, for decades, been the inspiration of childhood fantasy and adulthood memories. Perhaps it's no surprise, then, that The Nutcracker has become the centerpiece of holiday tradition for families everywhere. This year, Metro-area families can maintain their Nutcracker traditions by attending one of 12 performances to be given at the Detroit Opera House.

Performance times are as follows: Thursday, December 7 and 14, 8 p.m.; Friday, December 8 and 15, 8 p.m.; Saturday, December 9 and 16, 2 p.m. and 8 p.m.; and Sunday, December 10 and 17, 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

Tickets – ranging in price from $14 to $60 – may be purchased at the Opera House (located at 1526 Broadway) or at any TicketMaster outlet, or by calling the Detroit Opera House Ticket Services Center at 313-237-SING (7464).

MBM Donates Dunk Tank To Romulus Police Department

MBM donated the new dunk tank just in time for it to be used at the annual Romulus Pumpkin Festival.

When the Romulus Police Department determined that it had a need for a dunk tank, MBM Fabricators & Erectors came forward to offer its services. The local company agreed to design, construct, and donate a brand-new dunk tank and trailer.

"MBM wants to have more hands-on involvement within the community," stated Donald Makins, the company's president.

MBM has also participated in other community events, such as "Safe Seniors Day" and golf outings sponsored by the Romulus Police Officers' Association; donated welding materials to Romulus High School's vocational education program; and offered tours of its shop to local high-school students.

Thanks to the creative abilities of MBM employees Ted Luszczynski, Tony Smith, Timothy Hunter, Anthony Winfrey, and Rod Lester, the tank did indeed become a reality, and it was presented to the Romulus Police Department on September 13, 2000. MBM representatives attending the ceremony included President Donald Makins, Vice-president Terry Makins, and Vice-president Al Green. Representing the City of Romulus were Mayor William M. Oakley and Police Chief Charles Kirby, as well as other members of the Police Department.

Further assistance with this project came from other area businesses such as Rhino Liner (Ypsilanti), Innovative Computers (Romulus), and Michigan Trailer Supply (Romulus).

The tank will receive heavy use at fund-raisers for local charities and other community events.

For more information regarding community events and involvement, call the Community and Neighborhood Service Unit at 734-942-6871. □

Halecreek, Merriman Staffers Receive "Crystal Apple Award"

Editor's note: The following is the third of a series of installments identifying recipients of the Romulus Community Schools' "Crystal Apple Awards" for excellence in service to the district and the community. This installment focuses on employees of Halecreek and Merriman elementary schools. Watch for further installments in future issues of "the little paper."

Halecreek Elementary

Bill Baum—By continuing to give of his personal time and make use of his leadership abilities, physical-education teacher Bill Baum continues to have a significant impact on Halecreek's environment. He has spearheaded and/or involved himself in many community-outreach programs, from "Jump Rope for Heart" to after-school tennis clinics. Baum also provides mentorship to non-tenured teachers and leadership in the district's physical-education curriculum work.

Roxanne Kucharski—Paraprofessional Roxanne Kucharski often extended her time and talents last year to help with various school projects. She did an excellent job typing the district's Language Arts curriculum guide and creating a database for Halecreek. Kucharski's influence and willingness to help others is highly valued at the school.

Cathy Kudra—Kindergarten teacher Cathy Kudra continues to exemplify professionalism in education. Her commitment in time and outreach to children and families never falters, year after year. She also mentors non-tenured teachers, supervises student teachers, and serves as a teacher representative to the PTG. Kudra contributes to the district's vision through her involvement on the Science and Preschool committees, as well as the School Improvement Team.

Nan Meyer—Nan Meyer, the secretary at Halecreek, is an excellent manager of the school's office. She is always one of the first to arrive, and works on many levels throughout each day. Perhaps one of Meyer's most valued and important roles is her interaction with parents and students, with whom she sets a welcome tone of respect and patience that serves as a model for others to follow. Her professionalism and work ethic are truly exceptional.

Gretchen Notaro—First-grade teacher Gretchen Notaro has led both Halecreek and the district's K-2 teachers through the Four Blocks professional development program as a framework to teacher grade-level expectations. She presented at MRA last spring and continues to search out the best strategies for helping students achieve. Notaro contributes to the school's and the district's vision through committee work in Language Arts, School Improvement, North Central Association accreditation, and mentoring. Her work on the district's Language Arts curriculum has been invaluable.

Sandy Rakozy—Night custodian Sandy Rakozy consistently works cooperatively with the teachers in the second and third clusters to ensure that these areas of Halecreek are clean and well maintained. She takes pride in doing her job exceptionally well, and that pride is apparent as you walk through the building. Rakozy is highly valued for her work ethic and teamwork.

Gloria Swanson—The eye for detail and pride in her work that is exhibited by Gloria Swanson, Halecreek's night custodian, is largely responsible for the school's consistently well-cared-for look. Always flexible in meeting the building's needs, she works cooperatively with staff, evening-activity supervisors, and recreation workers. Swanson's leadership, ideas, high standards, and follow-through are invaluable to the school.

Gail Thompkins—Gail Thompkins, Intervention Room specialist, exemplifies professionalism in her work with some of Halecreek's most troubled youngsters. Her calm ways, excellent judgment, and dedication have helped many students find success. Thompkins contributes to Halecreek and the district through her work as co-facilitator of the Student Advisory Council and her involvement on the School Improvement Team and the Climate Committee. She is an invaluable presence at Halecreek.

Cheryl VanAllen—Last year, Cheryl VanAllen took her many years of experience as a master first-grade teacher and applied them in her new position of learning specialist. She has made great contributions to both Halecreek and the district through her exhaustive work with the Language Arts curriculum, and has provided guidance to many non-tenured teachers. VanAllen is also a guiding force in Halecreek's School Improvement planning.

Merriman Elementary School

Yvette Austin—Sixth-grade teacher Yvette Austin is a member of the Social Studies Committee and the School Improvement Team. She has been involved with many service-learning projects, was a facilitator for the sixth-grade Leadership Camp, and worked on the Career Exploration Project. Austin also produced and directed the sixth-grade African-American history play for the past two years.

Heather Doane—Heather Doane, a third-grade teacher at Merriman, participated in the English Language Arts pilot project and implemented the Four Blocks reading program in her classroom. A team teacher in science and social studies, she has been a district Social Studies Committee member and is co-facilitator of the School Improvement Team. Doane also has taken a leadership role in Multicultural Month activities for the past three years.

Pat McCollum—Physical-education teacher Pat McCollum serves on the district's Physical Education Committee, the Schools of Choice Committee, and the Merriman Social Committee. She has coordinated the school's annual "Jump Rope for Heart" event as well as its multicultural folk dances and games for Multicultural Month programs. McCollum is also the Safety Patrol supervisor and the Family Picnic activity coordinator.

Lisa Nastal—Lisa Nastal, the school secretary, also serves as Merriman's yearbook advisor and publishes the school's monthly newsletter. It was she who organized Romulus City Hall employees to read stories to Merriman students during National Reading Month. Nastal also helped with the Dr. Seuss birthday party and the "pumpkin book set" raffle. She is a member of the Social Committee, the dispenser of tooth necklaces and birthday pencils, and a fund-raiser helper.

Connie Nowland—Custodian Connie Nowland has an admirable sense of ownership and commitment to Merriman School. She has a great humanitarian heart. Besides being the chief holiday decorator at Merriman, Nowland also coordinates "Pop Cans for Kids" and is a Boys & Girls Club supporter. She is truly a woman of all trades.

Sharon Silveri—Learning specialist Sharon Silveri, Merriman's resident MEAP expert, is co-facilitator of the School Improvement Team and a member of the district's Language Arts, Technology, and Positive Discipline committees. Students Use Business Letter Skills To Write Candy Company

Barth teacher Gerilynn Kline's fifth-grade students - including (from left) Kourtney Hamilton, Rebecca Lewkowicz, and Raymond Holt - practiced their business-letter skills by writing a letter of complaint to Mars, Inc., regarding the inconsistent packaging of m&m's® chocolate candies.

Students in Barth Elementary teacher Gerilynn Kline's fifth-grade class recently practiced their business-letter skills by writing letters of complaint to Mars, Inc., regarding the company's inconsistent packaging of m&m's® chocolate candies. The students had noticed that some small bags of m&m's® had as many as 29 pieces while other bags the same size had as few as 14 pieces. The letters of complaint explained the students' findings and also discussed why they believe that the company needs to make some changes.

Not long afterward, Kline's class received a reply from the candy maker. The letter thanked the students for their concern and promised that their complaints would be referred to "quality control" for appropriate action.

Kline says that her class will continue to write meaningful business letters so that the students will get plenty of practice in this very important skill. □

Election Day was a sweet experience for those voters from Romulus's 10th and 17th precincts who stopped at Cory Elementary's "bake sale" table after they visited the polls there. Bake sale volunteers included (from left) Bola Emanuel, Penny Wegrzyn, and Barbara Underwood.

In the United States, Santa Claus visits children to reward them with Christmas gifts. After all, he knows if they have been "naughty or nice." Good children find Christmas presents under the tree and treats in their stockings. Not-so-well-behaved children wake up on Christmas morning to find a lump of coal in their stockings.

Through the years and across the globe — from the Italian Befana to the Swedish Jultomten to the Babouschka of Russia — there have been many variations and counterparts to this famous figure. An nineteenth-century Pennsylvania German tradition was that of Belsnickel (pictured at left). Dressed in a costume of furs, skins and old clothes, he wore a wig and mask, and supposedly was a sidekick of St. Nicholas. Belsnickel visited on Christmas Eve and offered cookies and fruits to good children; the whip or rod to those who had been bad. □

Homemade Lemon, Leaf Prints Add Fresh Touch to Holidays

The bright orange and yellow colors of fresh citrus fruits lend a vibrant note to all kinds of bright ideas for holiday decorations and gifts. They can be used to make pomander balls, candied peels, and dried fruit slices to be used as ornaments or on wreaths, or simply include them in a basket of fruit for a friend.

You can make your own citrus wrapping paper and card designs. To help you create unusual yet beautiful citrus projects, try the following craft ideas, courtesy of Sunkist.

Lemon and Leaf Prints

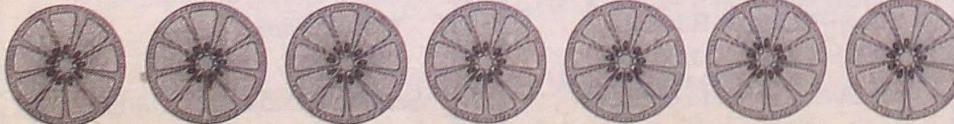

(for holiday wrapping paper, note cards, and gift tags)

- Sunkist lemons
- stamp pads (ink, pigment, or children's washable ink) in assorted colors (red, green, yellow, orange, gold, etc.)
- brown wrapping paper, brown paper grocery bags, or gift bags
- white banner or craft paper and/or gift-wrapping tissue
- blank cards and envelopes
- blank gift tags (or make your own from heavy card stock)
- raffia or ribbon
- fresh leaves (fern, ivy, etc.), about 2 to 2½ inches long
- Parchment or tracing paper, cut into 3-inch squares

Cut lemons in half crosswise. Pat lemon halves on paper toweling to blot juice from surface and to dry lemon slightly. Protect work area from ink by covering with paper. Press cut lemon half onto stamp pad, then press onto selected paper, card or tag. Repeat with the same or a different ink color in patterned or overlapping designs. (Use one lemon half for each color used.)

Use the lemon-stamped papers to wrap gift boxes, and tie with coordinating raffia or ribbon, adding a bit of holiday greenery and small pine cones, if desired. Use the lemon-stamped tissue paper as a colorful filler in handled gift bags or boxes (like Chinese food take-home boxes). Adding a coordinating gift tag completes the presentation. Tie a set of lemon-stamped cards and envelopes with raffia or ribbon to give as "homemade" gifts.

To make leaf designs, place leaf (use somewhat flat leaves, like ferns) on stamp pad. Place piece of parchment on top of leaf and rub finger over parchment and leaf to "ink" the leaf. Remove parchment and carefully place leaf, inked-side down, on paper or card to be decorated. Cover leaf with a clean piece of parchment and gently rub finger over parchment and leaf to transfer the leaf design. Repeat the design or use a different leaf shape or ink color. □

Spread Holiday Cheer: Shower Loved Ones with Encouraging Words and Gifts

Sealed with a Kiss

Send someone a box filled with Hershey's Kisses, along with a card that reads, "All the kisses in the world aren't enough for you!"

All Wound Up?

Send a windup toy to someone who is stressed out. Add a note that says, "In case you get too wound up, wind this up instead."

Send a Flashlight or Candles

Tell someone that the world's a brighter place because he or she is in it.

Penny for Your Thoughts

Go to the bank and get a bunch of shiny new pennies. Give them out to "shining examples" of people you appreciate. Tell them that they shine in your book.

Warm Wishes

Send your warmest wishes with a basket filled with your favorite soup, gourmet coffee, or anything that will warm someone up.

Bean a Great Year?

Put a bag or box of jelly beans in your favorite friends' mailboxes with a note that says, "Happy New Year! It's 'bean' a great year, thanks to you."

Deliver a Dictionary

Give someone who is extraordinary a dictionary and underline with a highlighter all the words in it that describe that individual. From "astounding" to "fabulous" to "marvelous," don't miss a word. Add a note that says, "I've underlined words from A to Z to show how much you mean to me." □

Classic Holiday Films

It's Christmas Day. The gifts have been opened, the food has been eaten, and you're so tired you can't move a muscle — yet it's only 3 p.m. What are you going to do for the rest of the day?

It's time for some extra family bonding — in front of the television set. Pop some popcorn, toss another log in the fireplace, snuggle up on the couch, and throw a tape into the VCR.

What will you watch? The following are some of the most popular holiday movies — both classic and modern: It's a Wonderful Life, A Christmas Story, Miracle on 34th Street, The Nutcracker, Scrooged, The Muppet Christmas Carol, The Bishop's Wife, White Christmas, National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation, Babes in Toyland, Home Alone, and The Santa Clause. □

Multilingual Message

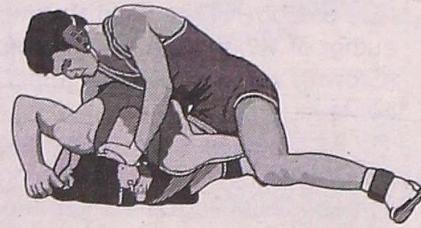

English-speaking people say "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year" to friends and family to wish them good cheer. Why not bring a smile to someone's face by giving your holiday greetings in a foreign language (information courtesy of www.peders.com) such as: Arabic (I'D Miilad Said ous Sana Saida), Cantonese (Seng Dan Fai Lok, Sang Nian Fai Lok), French (Joyeux Noël et Bonne Année!), Hawaiian (Mele Kalikimaka & Hauoli Makahiki Hou), Hebrew (Mo'adim Lesimkha, Shana Tova), Italian (Buon Natale e Felice Anno Nuovo), Japanese (Shinnen omedeto, Kurisumasu Omedeto), Navajo (Merry Keshmish), Polish (Wesoły Swiat Bozego Narodzenia), Spanish (Feliz Navidad y Próspero Año Nuevo), and Swedish (God Jul och Gott Nytt År). □

Teacher Finishes Fourth in Marathon

Serena Fraser, an English teacher at Romulus High School, finished fourth in the recent Detroit Marathon.

"It was a very exciting race," said Fraser. "I had the lead for a period at the halfway point."

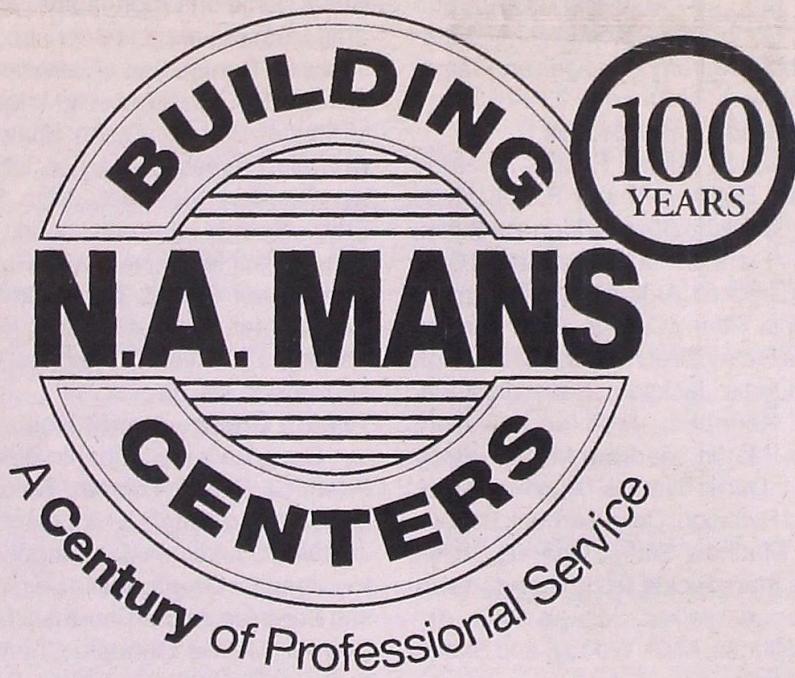

Her time of two hours and 58 minutes was only four minutes behind the winner, and resulted in a $1,000 prize.

Fraser noted that she was able to stay among the leaders throughout the race; however, at the 22-mile mark, she "hit the wall" and began to struggle. Then, with only two miles left, she summed up her strength and courage to again increase her pace, which resulted in her fourth-place finish. □

Serena Fraser placed fourth in the Detroit Marathon.

Oakwood Offers Companion Service

Oakwood Care Connection, the private-duty nursing division of Oakwood Home Care Services, now offers a Companion Call program. Oakwood will provide a trained companion for adults in Detroit or Western Wayne County who cannot be left alone. The fee for this service is $22 for two hours.

The Companion Call workers' main function is to provide company for the client through informal social activities such as conversation, reading aloud, or playing cards or board games. They do not provide hands-on care such as dressing or bathing, but they can prepare light meals or snacks. They can also assist in administering medication if the dose is prepared ahead of time by a family member.

A Companion Call visit can provide welcome respite for anyone serving as the primary care-giver for a dependent adult.

All Companion Care staff members are screened and trained by Oakwood Care Connection.

For more information on the Companion Call program, call 313-996-3113 or (toll-free) 800-757-7711.

Note: Individuals, especially senior adults, are now being sought to work as Companion Call staff. Call one of the above numbers if you would like to become involved.

The Romulus Senior Center's TeleCare program provides seniors with daily phone reassurance at no cost. To learn more, call the Center and ask to speak to Barb or Noel. They'll be happy to answer any questions you may have.
